Healthy Body Protein COLLAGEN!

Collagen is an important component of the human body. About 90% of our total body protein is collagen. Collagen is essential for moving joints, stable bones, healthy muscles, strong ligaments and tendons, smooth skin, shiny hair and healthy finger nails. It is one of the primary structural proteins of connective tissue and is also abundant in blood vessels, intervertebral discs, blood-brain barrier, cornea, dentin and intestinal wall - a vital component of our entire body.

-What is Liposol®-

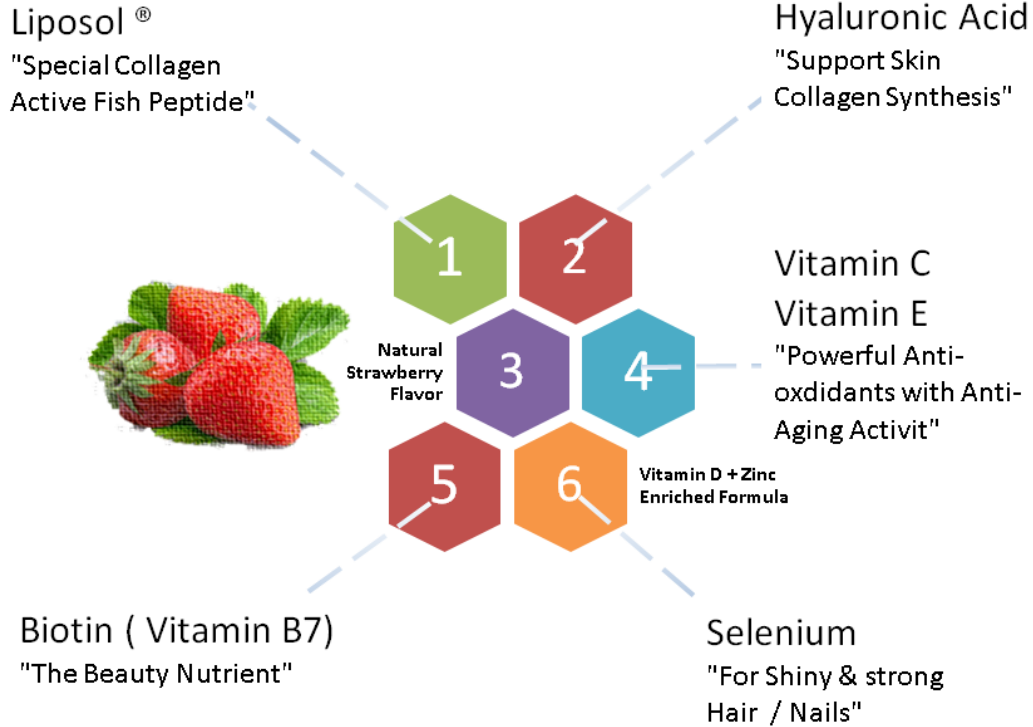

Liposol® Synthesis Table -1

Liposol® is a patented Lipoactive Collagen which is considered a special type of collagen / Lipid. The source used in the process leading to Liposol® is Fish, which is obtained by water extraction and then purified from heavy metals.

In the first stage, the structure of collagen fibers and collagen triple helix macromolecule is separated by hydrolysis process. The collagen chains are then broken down by enzymatic reaction by a special process and coated with “High Energy Triglyceride” oils in a special high-tech device. This new molecular arrangement is called Liposol®.
